The screenshot shows the Home Depot website's mobile interface in portrait orientation. At the top, there's a header bar with the Home Depot logo, a search bar, and account information. Below the header is a large, horizontal, scrollable image of a man working in a garage, surrounded by various tools and equipment. Underneath this image is a promotional banner for "Up to $60 off Select Floor and Wall Tile". The banner includes a "Buy of the Day" badge, a "Free Delivery, Today Only" note, and a "Shop Today's Specials" button. Below the banner are six small thumbnail images of different types of wood flooring. Further down the page, there's a section titled "Last-Minute Holiday Prep" featuring four small images related to holiday home decor.

The screenshot shows the same Home Depot website as above, but in landscape orientation. The main difference is that the central image of the man working in the garage is much larger and takes up more space on the screen. The promotional banner for tile discounts is also visible, along with the "Buy of the Day" badge and the "Shop Today's Specials" button. The rest of the page layout, including the header, footer, and other promotional sections, remains consistent with the portrait view.
